Executive Proclamation

Office Of The Governor

WHEREAS, America's grandparents are truly a national treasure and a living resource. The stories they tell of their lives give us a link to the past that is far more colorful and personal than what we read in history books; and,

WHEREAS, These days, grandparents come in all ages. But no matter when they were born, grandparents are the backbone of any family, and they can provide a wealth of beneficial information and insight to their offspring; and,

WHEREAS, It is important that we be mindful of the many contributions of our grandparents. They built our families, and they've helped to build America; and,

WHEREAS, Congress has designated the first Sunday after Labor Day as National Grandparents Day. This is a perfect opportunity for South Dakotans to show their grandparents just how important they are, and how much their wisdom is valued; and,

WHEREAS, Why not visit your grandparents this Sunday and let them know what they mean to you. It is sure to be time well spent with the people in your life who really matter:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, WILLIAM J. JANKLOW, Governor of the State of South Dakota, do hereby proclaim September 9, 1984, as
